We received Scott into our home through foster care when he was two and a half years old. After several months, we were told that he would be moved somewhere else and that we had two weeks to get ready for it. During those two weeks, I arranged this piece and dedicated it to Scott because he loved to sing the joy songs with us and because he brought us so much joy. We experienced even greater joy when he did not leave at the end of the two weeks as everyone had expected.

Instead, he stayed in our home and never left.
So I dedicate this song to Scott, my firstborn son.
—Lyle Stutzman
