

What Joy—Within the Courts of God

RIVERTON L.M.D.

Claudia Esh, 2011

Lyle Stutzman, 2012

1. What joy— with - in the courts of_ God To find_ our_ spir - its' na - tive land. Re-
2. The mold - ed clay that blinds our_ eyes Shall shat - ter_ at that trum - pet sound; The
3. What songs, as heav'n and earth_ u - nite, As - cend_ un - to Je - ho - vah there, And leased from chains of earth_ and time, Re - deemed be - fore Christ's face to stand; The sins_ and tear - stains of_ the_ world Shall fall_ like_ rags up - on the ground. With what_ har - mo - nious thun - ders pour As ho - ly_ in - cense on the air! For heights of glo - ry we_ shall climb, The rich - est depths_ of love we'll know; There fa - ces rais - ed toward the light We'll stand per - fect - ed at His throne, To this, for this we watch and wait, For this through - out_ the years have cried. Our we shall gaze up - on the One We have_ but_ dim - ly glimpsed be - low.

drink the cup of end - less life And know_ at_ last as we are known.
God shall come, and in that day We shall_ be_ ful - ly sat - is - fied.

Words copyright © 2011 by Claudia Esh and Shenandoah Christian Music Camp.

Music copyright © 2012 by Lyle Stutzman and Shenandoah Christian Music Camp. www.musiccamp.info

For congregational worship use, this song may be freely photocopied.